

Christmas Eve Worship at the Congregational Church of Easton

This year since we must socially distance our traditional beautiful Christmas Eve Service. It will be broadcast on YouTube. We would like to see as many people view the video as possible as a way to show solidarity of community during this very trying time.

So watch with us, sing the songs, join together in prayer, and feel the light of Christ in your hearts this Christmas Eve. We have provided the link to the video and to our website for the bulletin below.
